Could drawing farm animals lead to fame and fortune? For Walt Disney, it did. Walt spent much of his time on a farm when he was a kid. He had to help to feed and care for the farm animals. He liked to watch them and play with them. He even named the animals.

At six years old, Walt wanted to draw a pig named Porker. His family was very poor. He did not have paper to draw on. So he drew the pig on the side of the house and he got in a lot of trouble because of that. After that, he drew on toilet paper. His aunt bought him paper when she found out his talent in drawing.

After Walt grew up, he began to make animated short films with many animal characters. One of Walt's animal characters was a mouse. The mouse starred in its first film in 1928. The mouse was named Mickey. Mickey Mouse became one of the best-loved animal characters. With the help of Mickey Mouse, Walt Disney found fame and fortune.
