五、閱讀測驗：每題 2 分，共 10 分

People are worried about the US-CHINA Trade War. Why?

The US buys more products from China than any other country in the world. There is $505 billion worth of products from China in 2017, but the US only sends $130 billion worth of products to China. The US pays much more in the trade.

Now a trade war with China doesn't mean the US will stop buying products from China, but it shows how much we need the trade with China. For example, the US buys $146 billion of electrical products, like TVs, smartwatches and smartphones. Also, the US buy $1.4 billion on shoes and $113 million on umbrellas. In fact, China is the largest supplier of umbrellas. One thing the US sells a lot is playing cards. But the card stock we print on is from -- you guess it, China! There is no tariff, but we still spent $120 million on card stock last year. Because we need these products every day, this war could make us to have steep tariff on them. It means our lives could get a lot more expensive.
